C) Disability Details

Sport can and does play a major role in promoting inclusion in society. However, inequalities have traditionally existed within sport, particularly in relation to gender, race and disability. The PGA is committed to promoting and developing sports equity, which is about fairness in sport, equality of access recognising inequalities and taking steps to address them. By monitoring the profile of coaches, the PGA can identify any issues relating to under-representation of different groups and can together develop strategies to ensure all people have an opportunity in the future development and progress in golf.

The Disability Discrimination Act (DDA) 1995 defines a disabled person as anyone with a 'physical or mental impairment, which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on his or her ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities'.

Do you consider yourself to have a disability? No If no, proceed to section D
